Create and apply a standalone note template %

Create a standalone Note Template and apply it to a contact record.

- Use note templates to record personal interactions or events related to a contact record.
- Note templates save time by reducing or eliminating manual follow-up changes.
- Note templates can also be used to initiate automation in Campaign Builder.

There are three types of note templates:

- Campaign Goal Note Template: This common note template is set up in Campaign Builder. When applied to a contact, campaign automation begins; it is defined as a Goal in Campaign Builder.
- Campaign Sequence Note Template: This note template is set up in Campaign Builder. It does not initiate automation, it automatically adds a note to the contact record as part of a campaign sequence.
- Standalone Note Template: This note template does not kick-off campaign automation when applied to a contact record and is not set up in Campaign Builder.
