Improvements to data exports

We've made changes to data exports to ensure you'll experience better performance and can have confidence that your customer data is secure. For large exports (more than 1,000 records), a secure download link will be emailed as soon as the file is ready, requiring the recipient to be able to log in to retrieve the data. From now on, take a coffee break if you want to. Not just because you're waiting on your data to catch up. Learn more.

Money update: Contact information for Stripe transactions
