

May 19, 2022 | Max Classic

This article applies to:

Social login

You can now use your Google Account to log into Keap easily and more securely. That means no more needing to remember a separate username and password just for Keap. Just click the Log in with Google button, and choose the email address you use with your Keap account. Learn more

Bug fixes

- When right clicking on a report to open it in a new tab, an empty page with about:blank#blocked would be displayed in the browser address bar instead of the report.
-